

WASHINGTON, D. C., SUNDAY, DECEMBER 15, 1907

1. John and the Teds are on the way
 To buy their gifts for Christmas Day;
 But lo! what accidents befall—
 They've lost their money, purse and all.

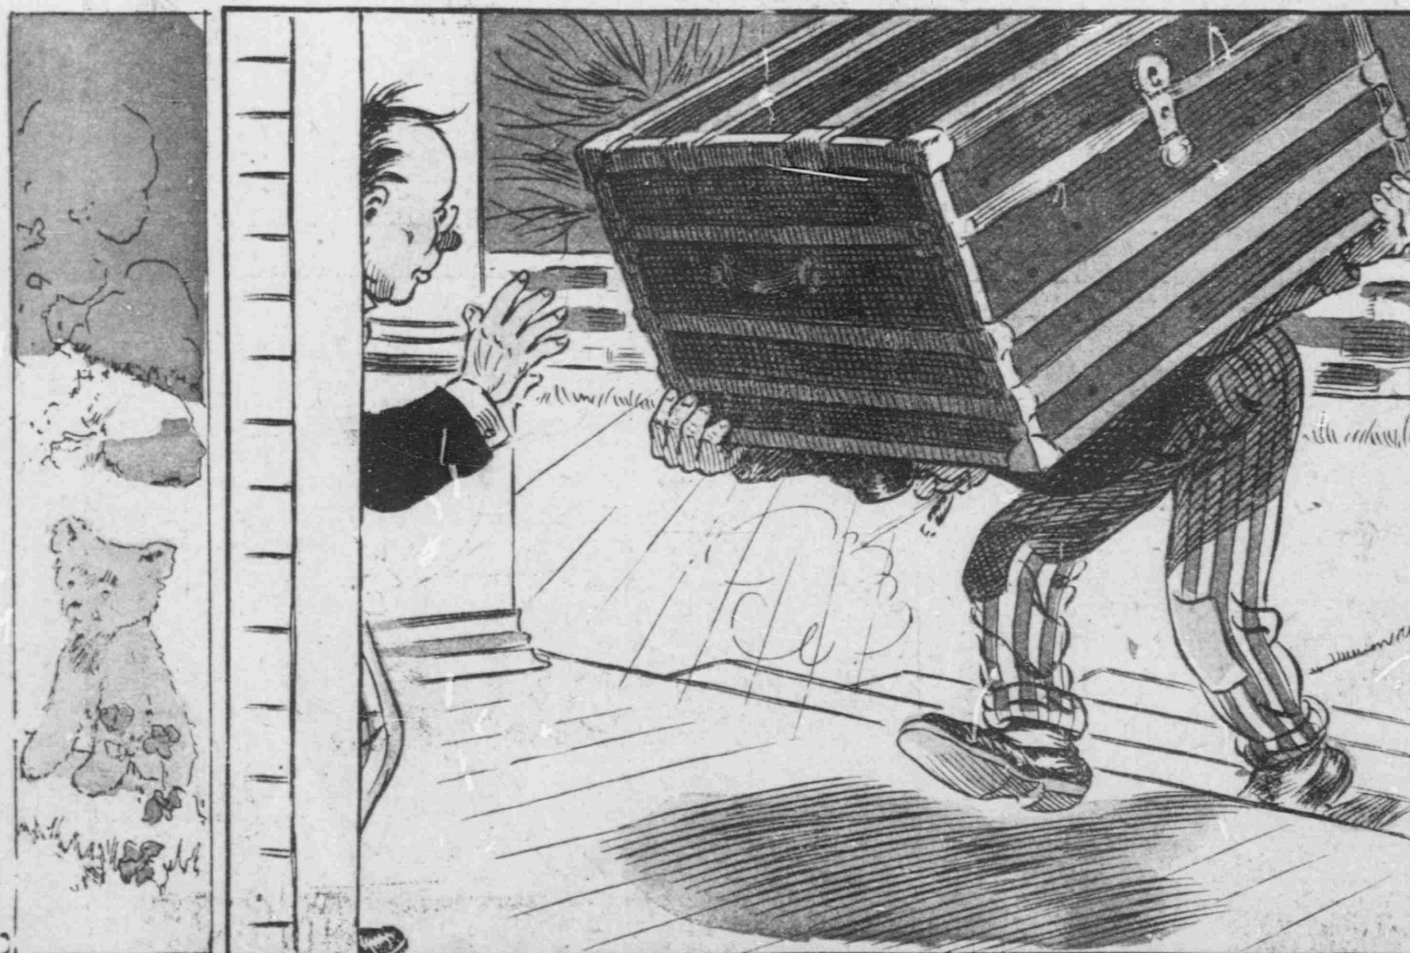

2. Then Johnny, by the merest chance,
 Remembers that the Teds can dance
 He has a mouth-organ he can play,
 And soon the fun is under way.

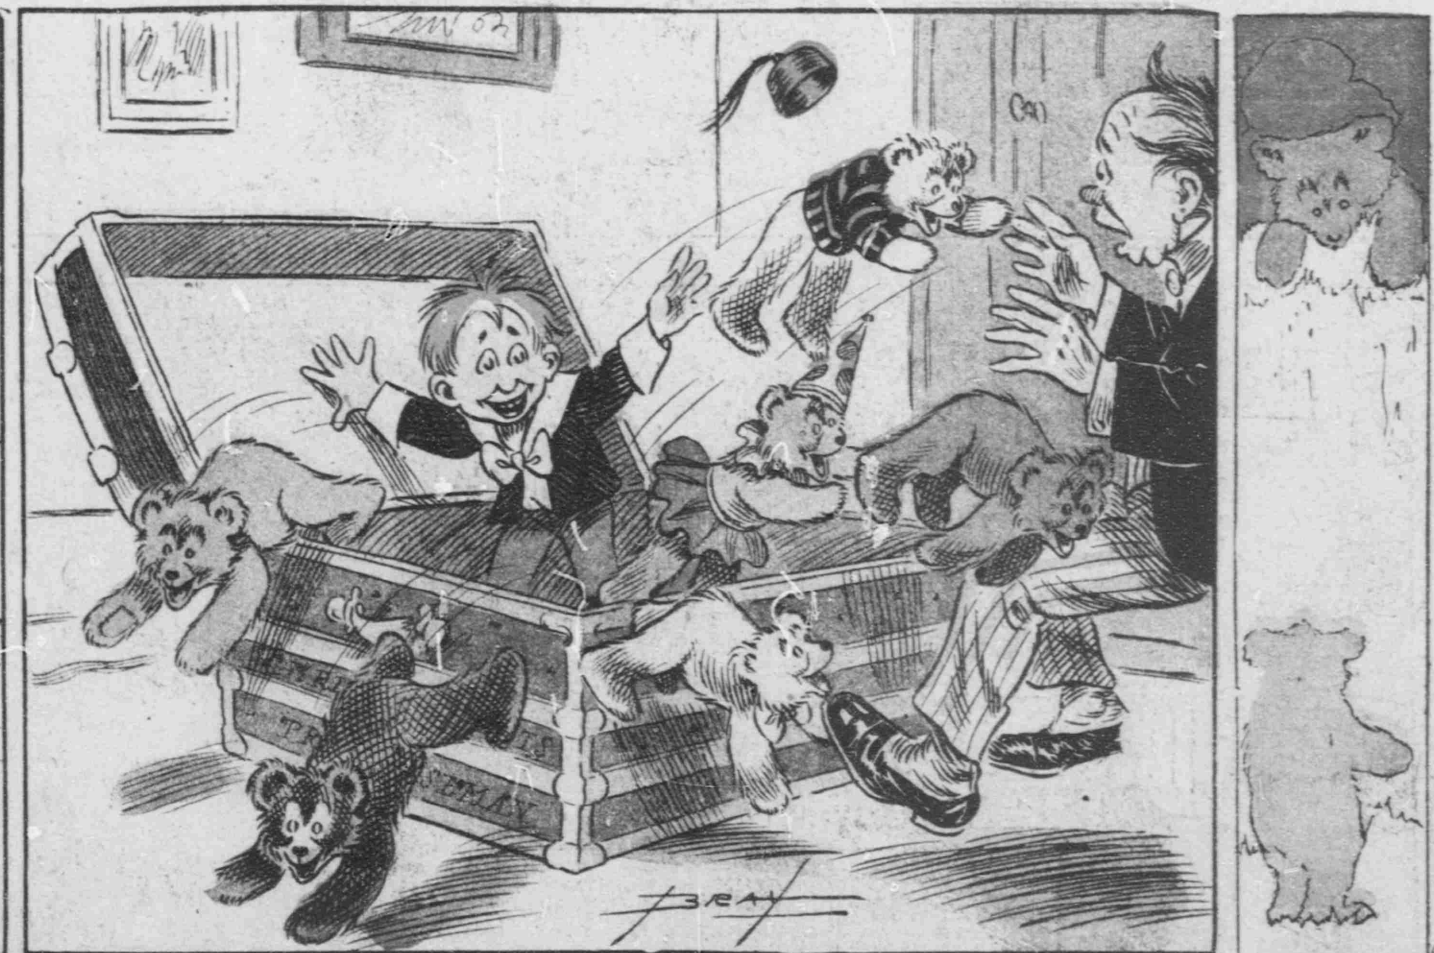

3. All morning, up and down the street,
 They dance for every one they meet.
 By noon they've made a thousand laugh,
 And got four dollars and a-half.

4. Then Johnny has a funny thought.
 You see the great big trunk he's bought.
 They all pile in and tell the man
 To send it home quick as he can.

5. Pa Wiseman sees with bulging eyes
 The Christmas gift of mammoth size.
 And tells the truckman to go slow
 So's not to damage it, you know.

6. With eager haste Pa lifts the lid.
 You see just what the Teddies did.
 Pa looks as if he might be mad,
 But such a gift should make him glad.
